(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—Artillery troops of the American army in the world war drilled with wooden guns, rope harness and other expedients because of lack of equipment, says the official report of Major General William J. Snow, chief of field artillery. "Large quantities of guns, ammunition and other artillery material are on hand, left over from the war, and the country for the first time in a half century has sufficient stocks of artillery to equip a large-sized army," Snow said. "An effort would be made to keep two segments trained at full strength for possible border duty during peace time."

The west drift today shows considerable quartz, the values ranging in several strings around $25. Rescue is sure in time to become one of the big producers of the Tonopah district. The high school has had an unusually successful season this year and football fans of this city will welcome the opportunity to see them in action. After the game the members of both teams will enjoy a turkey banquet and the remainder of the receipts will go into the high school students' fund. The game promises to be fast and hard-fought, and should be well worth attending.

The Oldtimers have been using the high school gym every night for the past week developing their team work and working out their signals. Quite a few of the members of this team are former high school stars and were members on the team which played Reno a 5-to-0 game several years ago. They will outweigh the high school team several pounds but the schoolboys are relying on their speed to win the game for them. The game will start at 3 o'clock sharp so that the spectators will have plenty of time to get home for their evening dinners.

WINE OF CHURCH SEIZED IN RENO

What will be done with two cases of sacramental wine shipped to Reno by express for Bishop George C. Hunting of the Episcopal church in care of the Cann Drug company and seized by Jonathan Payne, acting prohibition inspector, is a question that is puzzling federal authorities, as well as the bishop, says the Gazette. The wine was seized by Payne on the ground that it had been illegally shipped to Nevada.

The wine was purchased recently in San Francisco by Bishop Hunting in strict compliance with the federal law covering such transactions. It was seized by Payne as soon as it reached Reno and is being held by him. He takes the position that because there is no drought in Nevada who has been granted, under the provisions of the state prohibition law, a permit to sell wine for sacramental purposes, the shipment for Bishop Hunting in care of the Cann company was illegal. Payne said this morning that what will be done with the wine remains for future determination. As yet no charges against any person in connection with the alleged shipment have been preferred and Payne says that whether or not any charges will be made remains for future determination.

ARROWHEAD NEXT DESERT BONANZA

That Arrowhead is the coming camp of the desert country and may rival the best records of Tonopah and other Nevada silver bonanzas, is the opinion of W. A. Watson, who has gone to that district where he will put in some ladders and repair the shaft in the old Healy mine, a property belonging to the Adams-McGill company, says the Elly Times. This property, Mr. Watson states, has produced in past years upwards of $1,000,000 and has a shaft down more than 300 feet. Ore from there recently gave values of 130 ounces of silver. It is within a couple of miles of Beatty and slightly further from Arrowhead. The mine was worked by Governor Jewett Adams in the old days.

Rate Case Decision Disappoints Official

The interstate commerce commission, in an ordered issued Thursday in the case of the Railroads vs. the New York Commission, raises the passenger fares within that state from 20 to 50 per cent, says the Carson News. This decision affects every state in the union. When seen Thursday, chairman J. F. Shaughnessy of the public service commission stated that the decision in the New York case "strikes at the very heart of the state government and the liberties of the people as heretofore safeguarded and exercised under our dual form of government. If the order is confirmed by the United States supreme court, where it will be immediately taken, it means the beginning of the end of state authority and the effective exercise of our dual form of government. In other words, the ultimate destruction of the people's right to local self-government, and in lieu thereof the centralization of all important functions of government in the hands of bureaucratic departments at Washington."

The immediate effect will be to take from our legislature, courts and direct vote of the people upon the initiative all power which they have heretofore exercised over their own state commerce and its instrumentalities," declared Mr. Shaughnessy. "The question at issue, therefore, is one of government upon which there

LEAGUE SCRAPS ALL IDEAS OF DISARMAMENT

International Military Force
Discussed by Assembly
At Geneva Meeting

(By Associated Press)
GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 24.—Projects for an international staff, proposed by M. Bourgeois of France at Versailles and rejected, were discussed today in connection with the proposed reduction of armaments. The general sentiment prevails that it is impossible at present to procure the scrapping of war materials. Bourgeois declared that to make the Versailles treaty effective a military organization is necessary. The council of the league of nations is expected to take action on the assembly's request that negotiations be made with Mustafa Kemal, leader of the Turkish nationalists, through one of the powers. It seems probable that Luxembourg and Finland may be invited by a majority vote to join the league. Montenegro's application was not discussed and sentiment against Albanian's admission.
